THE FIRST NUMBER OF
THE FORTYNIGHTLY REVIEW,
Edited by GEORGE HENRY LEWIS, was published in London May 15, and will arrive in New-York about the 20th inst.

This is a new English Journal, similar to the Paris "Revue des Deux Mondes," treating of subjects which interest cultured and thoughtful readers, and published at intervals which do not exceed a month.

The FORTYNIGHTLY REVIEW will address the cultured readers of all classes by its treatment of topics specially interesting to them, and it will be the latitude which will give it expression to individual opinion may render it acceptable to a very various public.

The object of the FORTYNIGHTLY REVIEW is to become one of the most interesting, expressive, and well-arranged journals on the general topics of Political, Literary, Philosophical, Scientific, and Historical subjects.

Each contributor, in giving his name, will not only give a certain gravity to the article, but will also give the name of the author or editor of the article.

The FORTYNIGHTLY REVIEW will be published through the first sixteen numbers of the REVIEW.

The FORTYNIGHTLY REVIEW will be published on the 1st and 15th of every month.
